CAPITAL CITY SCENE OF AN EXCITING ROW

Showdown Of Controversy Over Bridgehead Lanes Due

A GREAT MANY THERE

Quarrel May Be Taken To Gov. Merriam In The End

NOTHING EXPECTED

Those who are attending the gathering expect to accomplish little in the way of oversetting the three-lane program of Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly, although a strong effort will be made to do so.

City and county officials of the Redwood Empire are appearing before the California Highway Commission in Sacramento today to present a plea for an adequate four-lane approach to the Golden Gate bridge in Marin county.

Date Was Changed.

The span approach conference, originally scheduled for Tuesday, has been delayed one day at the request of state highway authorities.

Have One Purpose.

A delegation from Sonoma and Mendocino counties will join with the Redwood Empre Association's leaders in urging the wider span approach.

To Present Survey.

Armed with facts and figures, including the recent exhaustive traffic survey of Sidney W. Taylor, traffic engineer for the Golden Gate bridge and highway district, the Redwood Empire delegation will point out the vital importance of a four traffic lane highway from San Rafael to the north bridgehead of the Golden Gate bridge, via Waldo Point.

Long Planned For.

Plans for mobilzation of the Redwood Empire Association delegation have been under way many weeks and there has been exhaustive discussion of the matters that will be brought before the commission, in addition to the Marin bridge approach, which is held of first importance.

Bridge Board There.

Practically the entire membership of the Golden Gate bridge board is scheduled to be on hand at Sacramento when the meeting opens this morning. In addition the San Francisco board of supervisors delegation will be present, the Down Town Association, one of the powerful civic organizations of San Francisco, is sendng its attorney to make a defense of the four-lane highway. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce will have its committee at Sacramento. Marvelous Marin, Inc., too, will be there.

Will Not Stop.

It is part of the program, if the State Highway Commission does not recede from the stand Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works, has taken, to carry the fight to Governor F. F. Merriam.

What Is Heard.

The rumor has persisted that, in the event the commission's request for $1,700,000 to aid in building the Waldo approach is turned down by the federal government, budget allotments for other important highway projects in the Redwood Empire counties may be curtailed and the funds used for construction of the Waldo approach.

Golf Folly Gets Federal Approval

It is reported advices have been received here the city plan for purchasing a municipal golf course, which means buying the Ed. Hyden property, has been given a government nod and the deal will, perhaps, go through. This matter in which probably a dozen golf players are interested, has not had the support of The Republican Press because this paper believed it an unwise move and one which would cost the taxpayers heavily. However, as no active opposition developed, this page concludes, if taxpayers are not interested to the point of making a protest, the bad move might just as well be allowed to go unchallenged.

Big Sale Of High Grade Groceries

This week The Home Grocery is putting on the annual S. & W. Sale, when groceries bearing the famous brand are sold at extremely low prices so as to tempt those who are patrons of chain stores to try and learn for themselves the advantages of eating high grade food. The sale will end Saturday and the bargains offered are practically in all lines carried by J. O. Brawn.

HOWE GIRL IS RENO BRIDE?

Marriage License In Nevada City Indicates Wedding

Disclosure that a marriage license was issued in Reno last week to Charles E. Palmer, Jr., 30, and Virginia Howe, 18, both of whom gave their address as San Jose, gave new impetus to the search for Ed Palmer, 35, Healdsburg, and Virginia Mary Howe, 15-year-old former Fort Bragg girl, missing more than two weeks.

Likely Local Couple.

Within the past few days officers have become positive that the couple who obtained the marriage license at Reno are the missing girl, daughter of Dr. R. C. Howe, of Fort Bragg, and Mr. Palmer who is being sought on a warrant charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Marriage Not Legal.

The Reno marriage is illegal, officers claim, since a minor girl cannot marry without consent of her parents. If apprehended, it was indicated last night, Mr. Palmer will face prosecution and Dr. Howe will probably take steps to have the marriage annulled.

Mrs. E. H. Smith Broke Her Hip

While in San Francisco where she had been called to be present when her daughter, Mrs. Veta Rinkel underwent an operation for tonsil removal, Mrs. E. H. Smith slipped on Powell street and broke her hip Monday. Mrs. Smith was taken to San Mateo, the home of her daughter, and is now in San Mateo hospital, where she will have to remain some time. The sidewalk in the city had become slippery following a storm and, losing her baalnce, Mrs. Smith fell.

Will Occupy New Home This Week

Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Kirwin plan moving in a day or so into the handsome residence they recently purchased from U. N. Briggs. It is believed now Dr. and Mrs. Kirwin will be settled in the property by the first of the coming week.

DOING HIS PART

Geo. P. Anderson, President of The Redwood Empire Association, left yesterday for Sacramento to be on hand when the controversy arising over the attempt to provide only three lanes of highway for the Golden Gate bridgehead comes up before the State Highway Commission tomorrow morning.

BROUGHT PRISONER

Jake Thom, for 10 years efficient head of the Willits police department, was in town Thursday, bringing a woman prisoner to the county infirmary. The prisoner is addicted to the use of liquor and, Chief Thom believed, would probably be sent to Talmage for treatment.

DEPARTED FOR RICHMOND

S. C. Sprague who has been in Ukiah since the opening of the fruit season, departed the last of the week for his home in Richmond accompanied by his mother and sister who have enjoyed the summer in Ukiah.

DIED SATURDAY

The funeral of Joe Stefani, who lived on River road, took place Saturday from Cleland's Funeral Home. Rev. Father Raphael Quinn officiated and burial was in Ukiah cemetery.

FANS EXPECT A GREAT CARD

Dreamland Auditorium's Offering Nov. 15 Is Real One

Along with a well-balanced card of bouts, which will bring forth some classy exponents of the manly art November 15, Ukiah fans will have a chance to witness at Dreamland Auditorium two of the best arena exhibitions to be seen anywhere when Arnold Ketchem, of Boonville, who has "been taking all of them into camp," faces Hugh Wedge, amateur Pacific Coast middleweight boxer. Up to now Hugh Wedge has never been stopped and has not been knocked down.

May Go Five Rounds.

Manager Clyde C. Brewer is endeavoring to get the sanction of the State Athletic Association to permit this bout to go five, instead of four rounds and may be successful in doing so.

They Mean Business.

Another number on the program for the evening will be the mix-up between Jmmie McVickar and Dykes Carmichael. These two lads clash at 125 pounds and they have, in other meetings, savagely gone after each other and can be relied upon to do the same thing when they get together the middle of the month.

All Were Satisfied.

The wrestling matches at Dreamland Friday evening drew a large house and the general concensus of opinion is the offerings were, by far, the most satisfactory and finished seen here. All of the contenders knew their business, put on a good show and held the interest of the big crowd to the end. Lord Lansdowne, the Englishman, won the throng completely.

Former Resident Has Heart Attack

(The Lakeport Bee)

City Clerk D. W. Dillard is at his home on Martin street recovering from a slight heart attack which he suffered while on duty at his offices in the city hall Monday morning, shortly after he opened his doors for the day's business. The attack occurred while Mrs. Dillard, who had come to the office to assist him, was present. Dr. Charles A. Craig was called and prescribed several days of rest for the genial city clerk. During his absence Mrs. Dillard will be in charge. Mr. Dillard was a former Ukiah resident, while employed by the Ukiah Farmers' Club.

Grand Jurors Have Been In Session

The Mendocino county grand jury met Menday morning and at 10 o'clock the first witnessees summoned last week to testify in the county hospital investigation were being heard. The inquiry was expected to consume practically two days, during which time the jury would listen to 26 witnesses who were to be questioned concerning various phases of the hospital management.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gibson left last week for Fresno where they will remain throughout the winter, Mr. Gibson having secured employment as a building superintendent in that city. Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Stevens rented the fine Gibson home here and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson are shipping their furniture to the southern city.

GO TO CITY

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. O'Brien will drive to San Francisco Thursday where Mr. O'Brien has been called as a State Prison director on State Prison matters.

BOUGHT LEASE

Mrs. Jule Comino Monday disposed of El Comino Italian restaurant to "Slim" Gardner. Mr. Gardner plans connecting his State street restaurant with the Standley street cafe he purchased from Mrs. Comino and jointly conducting them.

"So the People May Know"

THE THREE-LANE HIGHWAY

I have just read in The Reader's Digest: "* * * The modern death trap is likely to be a straight stretch with three lanes of traffic—like the notorious Astor Flats on the Albany Post Road where there have been as many as 27 fatalities in one summer month. This sudden vision of broad, straight road tempts many an ordinarily sensible driver into passing the man ahead. Simultaneously a driver coming the other way swings out at high speed. At the last moment each tries to get into line again, but the gaps are closed. As the cars in line are forced into the ditch to capsize or crash fences, the passers meet, almost head-on, in a swirling, grinding smash that sends them caroming obliquely into the others.

"A trooper described such an incident—five cars in one mess, seven killed on the spot, two dead on the way to the hospital, two more dead in the long run. He remembered it far more vividly than he wanted to—the quick manner in which the doctor turned away from a dead man to check up on a woman with a broken back; the three bodies out of one car so soaked with oil from the crankcase that they looked like wet brown cigars and not human at all; a man, walking around and babbling to himself, oblivious to the dead and dying, even oblivious of the dagger-like sliver of steel that stuck out of his streaming wrist; a pretty girl with her forehead laid open, trying hopelessly to crawl out of a ditch in spite of her smashed hip * * *."

This description, appearing in The Reader's Digest, is duplicated, modifiedly, here in Ukiah everytime I go out on the street and see poor, little Ping Woo, the Chinese boy Miss Alice Lamb is caring for, as he goes up and down the street on crutches, dangling the pitiful portion of his small thigh, the balance of which was torn off on the deadly three-lane highway one day last year in a thick fog near Sausalito where at the very same time, in the very same place, one of Ukiah's promising boys—youthful Jack Redemeyer, was so gashed and mangled he died soon afterwards.

The theory of the engineers of the State Highway Commission may be set up to prove a three-lane highway off the Golden Gate bridgehead in the fogbank in the hills of Marin county is safe, but the tombstones in the graveyards of California as they will multiply, if the State Highway Commission has its way, will tell a silent and a different story.

GAY LIGHTING MISLEADS MANY WHO SEE SPAN ILLUMINATION

Harbor Entrance Decoration Puzzling To Newcomers

(By Stuart B. Dunbar)

With the holidays fast approaching San Francisco's harbor entrance is assuming a gay Christmas-like aspect and passengers on ships arriving after dark will enter the harbor under an arch of gaily twinkling lights.

Looks Christmas-Like.

During the past week the erection of the inverted storm cables beneath the catwalks of the Golden Gate bridge was virtually completed. The decorative effect is furnished by the white, red and green lights that are being strung along these cables to mark their location for the guidance of mariners and not to delight the eyes of commuters, as many who have viewed them from passing ferry boats seem to believe.

What They Mean.

According to the weekly progress report of Chief Engineer Joseph B. Strauss, on file today for the bridge district directors, the lights are required and their position specified by the federal authorities both as warnings to shipping and aircraft. The center of the span is marked by green lights, while a series of red lights are strung to the inverted cables from the point where they are anchored at the bases of the tower to an elevation where they will clear the masts of vessels passing beneath the span. Soon the catwalk cables will be marked by white lights, completing the arch across the gate, and affording a gorgeous night spectacle.

Put Up Equipment.

Cable spinning equipment is being erected rapidly and the spinning is expected to commence within the next 10 days. The preliminary work includes the erection of cross booms to support the cable tramways on which the spinning wheels will run, erection of spinning equipment on both anchorages and installation of the signal system which will control spinning operations.

The Men Working.

During the past week a total of 212 men were employed on the cable contract at the bridge site, while a substantial crew of workers at the California City storage plant of the John A. Roeblings Sons Company is engaged in washing, splicing and reeling cable wire.

All Being Hurried.

Other work in progress on the Golden Gate bridge includes excavations for the south abutment, now virtually complete, erection of the new seawall west of the south anchorage and extension toward the Marina gateway of the Presidio of the low viaduct of the east approach road. During the past week the Chief Engineer reports, a total of 335 men were employed on the job.

REAL PROBLEM AS REVEALED—GROWS WORSE

Handling Criminal Insane Is Ticklish Situation

NUMBER INCREASING

Four Attendants To Take Care Of 145 Dangerous Men

Last week there arrived at Talmage four criminal insane patients. The four were killers of a dangerous type and added to the already alarming condition at the State Hospital.

Greatly Overcrowded.

The ward for the criminal insane, intended for a 66-patient capacity, is now housing 145, criminally inclined, inmates. To look after all of these insane there are 13 attendants, none of them armed and this attendant force is broken down so that there are, at no time, more than four attendants or guards on duty.

No Building Safety.

There are no substantial barred windows on the ward building. The doors are not of a kind that could stand up against any real escape attack. The building is surrounded by a wire fence. Not any more substantial than that enclosing a deer park in a playground center of a large city.

Are Not Armed.

One of the distressing conditions in the taking care of criminal insane at Talmage is that the attendants are not allowed weapons of any kind. If a break should occur the greatest opposition to escape would lie in whatever physical resistance four men would be able to exert against the mob violence of the insane.

Sewer System Bids To Open Nov. 13

Bids will be opened November 13 for construction of a new sewerage treatment works and outfall sewer extension near Ukiah, according to word received by the National Re-employment Service. Work on the project, financed by the PWA, is expected to start around December 1. A crew of 37 men will be employed at prevailing wage rates for nearly six months, according to Roger Thomas, district manager of the employment agency.

Big River Salmon Not Being Taken

(The Mendocino Beacon)

Although the river has been full of salmon several days, there seems to be sufficient feed to keep these finny beauties from striking as they should at the many wonderful lures presented them by local fishermen. A good rain will have a tendency to eliminate a quantity of the small fish which are now so numerous and then the big fellows will be looking for other things to strike at.

THREE NEW BABIES

During the past week Dr. J. H. Hansen has been busy welcoming new arrivals to Ukiah, officiating at the following births: A son to Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hayes; a son to Mr. and Mrs. L. McCulloch and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Lyndell Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Folsom who have been occupying the Briggs residence on South Oak street are moving to the Building and Loan Association property recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Tartaglia.

WERE INTERESTED

George Vevoda said yesterday he had never held an auto showing at which such interest was manifested as that displayed last week when 1936 Chevrolets were shown. All day Saturday and Sunday the display rooms of the Vevoda Motor Sales were crowded.

THE TRUTH "—is also found in frank confession of error."

Member of REDWOOD EMPIRE NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS Unit. REDWOOD EMPIRE ASSOCIATION

THERE IS NO DOUBT

(By Bruce Catton, NEA Writer)

THE DECISION HANDED down by the New Jersey court of errors and appeals in the case of Bruno Hauptmann is worth a little study.

Bruno Hauptmann was convicted of a murder which, for the depth of public horror and anger which it aroused, was probably the most shocking ever committed in America. His trial was inevitably the center of nation-wide interest. The verdict was received with nation-wide satisfaction.

But because the conviction was based entirely on circumstantial evidence—which a popular misunderstanding somehow conceives to be of less value than direct evidence—and because he has had vocal defenders who have insisted he was a victim of prejudice, there has grown up here and there a feeling that the cumbersome processes of the law managed to lay hold of the wrong man.

Anyone who has such a feeling should glance briefly at the appellate court's findings.

"Our conclusion," says the court, "is that the verdict is not only not contrary to the weight of the evidence, but one to which the evidence inescapably led."

Why? Because, first and foremost, Mr. Hauptmann was caught with the goods. He had the ransom money in his possession; and the court points out that Hauptmann's own story of how he got the cash is simply unbelievable, adding that his method of handling it "makes clear his guilty connection with the enterprise."

Secondly, it was proved to the hilt that the ransom notes were all written by Hauptmann. They were in his handwriting and they used peculiarities of spelling and language which he habitually used.

It is an inescapable inference, says the court, that the man who wrote these notes entered the Lindbergh nursery and took the child.

Lastly, there is the fact that some of the wood used to make the ladder by which the kidnapper entered the house was traced to Hauptmann's own home, and that on a board in his home there was written, by his hand, Dr. Condon's telephone number.

Adding these facts together, the court concludes that this "was a circumstantial case with the evidence pointing to guilt from so many directions as to leave no room for a reasonable doubt."

All this is worth keeping in mind. No criminal trial in our generation has held American attention as did Bruno Hauptmann's.

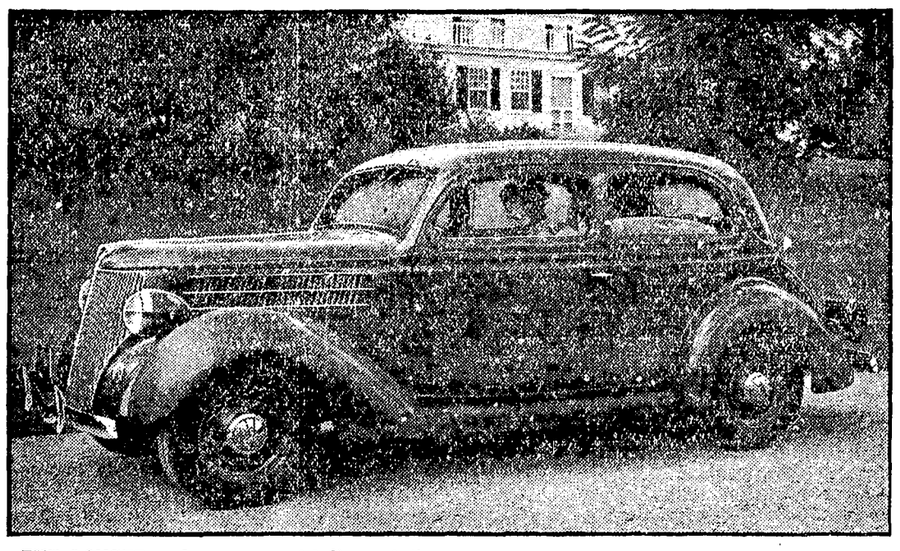
Those who have the notion that Hauptmann, after all, might have been guilty of a monstrous miscarriage of justice should reflect on the points raised by the appellate court.

These points ought to satisfy them that there are few cases in which a prisoner's guilt is so firmly established as in the case of Bruno Hauptmann.

THE RAINBOW'S END

THERE IS BEING BROUGHT back to California from Texas this week an aged man. He was a former trusted state employe at Sacramento who stole $24,000, which he invested in wildcat oil companies with the idea he would win a fortune. Of his tragic situation The San Rafael Independent says: "Prison, rather than a pot of gold lies at the end of the rainbow which William B. Shearer, former legislator and defaulting state treasury cashier chased over the oil lands of the southwest judging from evidence found in his possession when he was arrested in a cheap Texas rooming house. For years, Mr. Shearer is believed to have chased a will-o-wisp oil fortune, for in the lodging house where he was paying 75 cents a day for his room was a suitcase which yielded receipts for $7000 payment made to oil companies in Fort Worth. In a dresser drawer were several half-smoked cigars, apparently saved against the day when the gray-haired veteran state employe could no longer afford fresh ones and many letters, one of which told of the search for a "lost gusher." In the suitcase, three significant articles were found, two of them Dickens' books, "Hard Times" and "Great Expectations" and two Irish Sweepstakes tickets. These and some $19 in cash were all that remain of the $24,000 in state funds which Mr. Shearer has admitted he took in varying amounts over a period of many months."

Longer Lines in Ford V-8 for 1936



THE LONGER and more graceful lines of the Ford V-8 for 1936 are well illustrated in this view of the popular De Luxe Tudor Sedan. The new longer hood extends gracefully over the attractive new radiator grille. Wide streamlined front fenders, with an imposing flare, shroud the tires and house the horns behind chromium grilles. New design steel wheels with 12½-inch hub caps are handsome and easy to clean. Bucket-type front seats are exceptionally comfortable. This body type, of welded steel like all Ford V-8 bodies, is also available without de luxe appointments at lower cost.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, who is a director of the State Board of Prisons of California.

THE CASE OF THE TORTURED MIND

He was a sodden, vicious criminal.

His record went back to 1903.

Papers connected with his case I had a chance to see showed his mother and his father had been lynched by stockmen in South Dakota because of their cattle rustling operations. The first criminal offense of the man—(We will call him X and his companion, who entered so strangely into this story, we will designate Y—Both are life termers at Folsom)—took place in Pennsylvania. It was a robbery. He got out of that and began a trek across the continent, halting several times through the years, because he was overtaken by the law and sent to various state prisons. He stole horses, committed grand thefts, forged, resorted to highway robbery and, coming to California, at last, he drew the spikes on the rails of the Southern Pacific near Saugus Station, derailed the Lark, one of the crack trains of the company and at the point of a gun, robbed a number of passengers who were injured and confused following the derailment. He was for this last crime at Folsom when he asked to see me.

He was a glib talker, a clever actor and utterly conscienceless. He started off by telling me he intended revealing something to me no man knew anything about and then he mysteriously drew from his breast a yellow document. He evidently had long carried the paper with him at all times, day and night. Passing the envelope to me he asked me to read its contents.

I did.

The story I read confused me at first.

The paper was an affidavit. It had been properly prepared. It had the seal of a notary and was signed by Convict Y. The latter swore that it was he, and not Convict X, who had derailed the Lark and robbed the passengers at the point of a gun. Convict X had nothing to do with it.

All of the facts known to the officers who worked on the case were correctly set forth. Convict Y took entire responsibility for the crime and he gave for his reason in doing so the impossibility of his conscience to allow him peace of mind while another man was serving a life sentence for a crime he had committed!

On the face of it a great injustice might have been done.

If Convict Y was not mentally tortured, why did he confess this offense which meant life imprisonment?

I was being "strung along" by two smart, vicious desperadoes. This came out when it was recalled:

In California one cannot be prosecuted for a felony after three years have elapsed. Convict Y waited until three years after the Southern Pacific's limited train had been wrecked and then made his affidavit.

He was immune from being punished. His "confession," he believed, would create a doubt as to the guilt of Convict X. Neither had anything to lose.

What was a false oath to them?

Press Want Ad Scored Again

Lou Charlton had a house he wished to rent and, of course, came to The Press to insert a classified advertisement. Thereafter the house was quickly rented. "I have tried The Press a number of times," Mr. Charlton said, "and always got good results." As with Mr. Charlton so it is with others as almost everyone hereabouts reads The Press and, naturally, results are invariably obtained.

GEO. BENNETT'S DRIER BURNED

Anderson Valley Man Suffers By Fire On Tuesday Last

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, Nov. 5.—Fire totally destroyed the apple drier on the George Bennett ranch at River Rest Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock, but fortunately Mr. Bennett had sacked all the dried apples on hand and hauled them out that morning, otherwise they would have been lost also; as it was there was a loss of 60 trays of apples, all equipment, except the peelers, two tons of green apples and 30 cords of wood corded up nearby, besides a wood saw and other ranch machinery stored under the building. The fire is understood to have started from the furnaces and had gained considerable headway when discovered by the crew working on the River Rest bridge. The crew of four, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Price, Robert Hutsell and Walter Nisula employed in the drier did not know they were working in a burning building until the alarm was given, but the fire had gained such headway and the heat was so intense they were helpless. They were able to save the barn nearby in spite of the shower of sparks. Mr. Bennett did not learn of his misfortune until his return from Healdsburg.

SOCIAL AND CLUB EVENTS

MANY ENJOYED HOSPITALITY OF DR. CUSHMAN

About 300 guests enjoyed the hospitality of Dr. R. A. Cushman at the party given by him Wednesday evening at Meendocino Hospital. Members of the various clubs of the city and officials were invited for the evening's entertainment, which included a motion picture and dance. The affair took place in the assembly room of the institution.

The spirit of Hallowe'en was evident in the decorations for the affair. Lighted pumpkins and great masses of cornstalks lined the stairs leading to the assembly room. The hall was decorated in black and orange with festoons of paper looped along the ceiling, and a border of black cats, pumpkins, witches and skeletons lining the walls. In one corner was a replica of a farm. An ancient picket fence had been built, behind which was a garden with growing pumpkins and corn, and an old scarecrow to frighten away the spooks.

Following the motion picture, a mystery show, suitable for the Hallowe'en Eve entertainment was put on. The guests enjoyed dancing for the remainder of the evening.

P.G. and E. REDUCES ELECTRIC RATES

New low rates will apply on electricity used in the home and for commercial lighting throughout P. G. & E. system. Over 690,000 customers will benefit by this saving of nearly $4,000,000 a year, beginning with January bills.

CHEAPER ELECTRICITY
Reduced electric rates mean just one thing—cheaper electricity. To each individual home in the P. G. and E. system and to all commercial lighting customers that means more comforts and conveniences from electricity at no additional cost.

APPLIES TO JANUARY BILLS
The reduced electric rates take effect automatically and apply on January bills to all domestic users and to all commercial lighting customers.

WHY this reduced electric rate?
This substantial saving to our customers of nearly $4,000,000 has been long under consideration and we have been planning carefully for it. We feel now we can justify it on the following four points of good business. These four points are:

1. Increased demand for electricity stimulated in part by the special inducement rate of the past year and in part by better business conditions.
2. Lowered financing costs brought about by reducing interest charges of a large part of the company's bonded debt with 4 per cent bonds.
3. Reduced management and operating costs which were lowered through the consolidation of several properties.
4. By economies put in effect in every department.

Take advantage of the new low electric rates. Do more electrically, now that all types of electric equipment for the home will cost less to use.

Electric Rates Cut again and again and AGAIN!
Electric rates have dropped steadily and consistently in the P. G. and E. system.
In 1928 . . . rates were reduced by $2,418,900 yearly.
Again in 1930 . . . rates dropped by $3,020,000 yearly.
Again in 1935 . . . an inducement rate is saving customers $1,600,000 in one year.
NOW AGAIN in 1935-36 reduced rates save $3,924,000 yearly. In only eight years accumulated rate reductions have amounted to $54,621,000.
Electricity IS cheaper in California, with P. G. & E. electric rates among the lowest in the country

Grape Conditions Bad.

The grape situation has been most unfavorable this year. Many growers still have their vines to pick and, since the rains and heavy frosts the picking has been very unsatisfactory. Most of the grapes that are sold now are being trucked to a winery near Healdsburg and the loads which are being taken down have been so numerous the truck drivers have to wait in line for hours for their turn to unload the grapes. This naturally reflects upon the pickers who have to wait for return of empty boxes.

Daughter Stricken.

T. S. Van Vleet received word recently from Honolulu of the illness of his daughter, Mrs. Jack Burns and that she had been taken to a hospital there where the attending physician had diagnosed the case as infantile paralysis but it was hoped it might not be of a serious nature. WHOSE WORD WILL YOU TAKE FOR BLOWOUT PROTECTION?

LOW wheels, larger tires, and the high speeds of today make blowout protection in your tires vital to your safety as never before. Are you accepting exaggerated and unsupported advertising and sales claims—or are you accepting the judgment of men who risk their lives on their tires and know from experience the tire that gives them the greatest blowout protection?

Thirty-three race drivers and their mechanics lined up for the dangerous, gruelling grind of the 500-Mile Race at the Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. Firestone Tires were purchased and used on every one of the thirty-three cars.

Kelly Petillo won the race at an average speed of 106 miles per hour. Wilbur Shaw was second, flashing across the finish line just behind the winner. Both drivers broke the track record without tire trouble. In fact, not one of the thirty-three drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Gum-Dipping is one of the outstanding reasons why Firestone Tires give such amazing performance. By this process every cotton cord is soaked and every strand is insulated with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. Gum-Dipping is a patented extra process not used in any other make of tire.

Protect your life and the lives of others by equipping your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped High Speed Tires—the safest tires built.

It will be worth your time to read these three questions and their answers:

QUESTION 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

ANSWER—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of other popular makes of tires.

QUESTION 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"

ANSWER—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

QUESTION 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

WINE MAKERS SHOULD GET A U. S. PERMIT

Government Regulations Must Be Followed Closely

MANY LIMITATIONS

Restrictions Prevent Practices Which In Past Prevailed

Who can and who cannot make 200 gallons of wine for family use without payment of federal taxes?

Many Are Interested.

This question, uppermost in the minds of many persons at this time of year, has been answered by the federal government, through F. C. Schindler, deputy collecter of internal revenue for Mendocino, Sonoma, Marin and Lake counties.

What Law Says.

In brief, the law permits the manufacture, by heads of families only, of 200 gallons of tax-free wine, after form 1541, which is available at Mr. Schindler's office in the postoffice building, Santa Rosa, has been filled in and filed with proper authorities.

Those Who Cannot.

Single persons, unless they are heads of families, cannot make the tax-free wine, neither may one person make it for the use of another person, whether consumed on the premises or removed therefrom for the family use of the owner. Neither may any married man living apart from his family make the 200 gallons. Wines cannot be made tax-free by partnership, neither tan wines made at a winery owned and operated by several heads of families jointly escape the tax.

Can't Supply Ranch Hands.

And, finally, and most important, from the standpoint of many ranch operators, wines made under the 200-gallon tax-free provisions cannot be furnished to ranch hands or boarders.

Must Do This.

Each person, under the ruling, entitled to and desiring to avail himself of the exemption, must file a notice with the district supervisor of the alcohol tax unit, 200 Bush street, San Francisco, before commencing to manufacture wine. This notice, blanks for which can be secured at Deputy Schindler's office in Santa Rosa, is made in duplicate, one kept by the applicant and one furnished to the supervisor, a copy of the permit must be kept on the tank containing the wine.

Must File Application.

Unless the home winemaker plans producing more than 200 gallons of wine, application for a bonded winery permit is not necessary. In event, however, that the 200-gallon quota is exceded, form 698, application for a bonded winery permit, must be filed.

REDUCED ELECTRIC RATES

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

Pacific Gas and Electric Company is pleased to announce another reduction in electric rates amounting to approximately $4,000,000 per year.

Beginning with January bills lower rates will become effective for household electric service, for commercial lighting, and for power service for large commercial and industrial establishments.

Of the $4,000,000 represented by the reduction, $2,000,000 per year will go to domestic customers, $1,000,000 to commercial lighting customers, and $1,000,000 to power customers.

The top lighting rate in incorporated cities and towns is lowered from 4.5 cents to 4 cents per kilowatt hour, and the second block from 3.5 cents to 2.5 cents per kilowatt hour, both blocks being slightly lengthened. Domestic customers who use 60 kilowatt hours per month, which is the average domestic consumption, will benefit by a 10.7 per cent reduction. In rural districts the rates for both first and second blocks are reduced one-half cent per kilowatt hour, these blocks also being somewhat extended.

A year ago, when we offered a special inducement rate to encourage increased use of electricity, we said, "It is our hope and expectation that this offer will so stimulate the use of electricity as to justify a reduction in the regular schedules." This hope has been realized. There has been a gratifying increased use which has helped to make possible the present reduction.

Increased consumption, however, does not tell the whole story. During recent months we have substantially reduced bond interest charges. We have consolidated properties and lowered operating costs. We have put economies into effect in every department. These savings we are now passing along to our customers in lower rates.

We are counting, too, on better business conditions and these reduced rates to stimulate greater use of electricity.

We are making this reduction despite continued increases in taxes, well illustrated by the fact that in 1934 the company paid $1,146,000 more in taxes, federal, state, and local, than in the preceding year.

The trend of our rates is and always has been downward. Going back only eight years, the company in 1928 reduced its charges $2,418,900 per year. This was followed in 1930 by another reduction of $3,020,000 per year. This year customers will save $1,600,000 through the temporary inducement rate. The present reduction will save an additional $3,924,000 per year. These successive rate reductions will represent accumulated savings to our electric customers of $54,621,000 by the end of 1936.

These new rates will enable our customers to enjoy greater electric comforts and conveniences. We are especially gratified to be able to reduce the cost of electric service at this time when general costs of living are steadily rising.

1936 CHEVROLETS CAPTIVATE AMERICA

Here is Chevrolet's bid for America's volume-car preference — two new complete lines of cars in two price ranges — the 1936 Master De Luxe and the 1936 Standard. Both models are equipped with perfected hydraulic brakes among many other identical chassis improvements. Both have Turret Top Body by Fisher. Top Left: new Standard four-door sedan with built-in trunk. Top Right: new Master De Luxe Town Sedan. Bottom Left: built-in luggage and tire compartment in Master De Luxe Town Sedan. Bottom Right: new Master De Luxe Coupe. Right Panel Views, top to bottom: perfected hydraulic brakes, higher-compression valve-in-head six engine, finger-tip shockless steering, roomier and richer interiors.

INTEREST IS GREATEST YET

Chevrolet Distributor Asserts Public Likes The '36 Models

Sensationally living up to its advance biling as "the only complete low priced car," the 1936 Chevrolet today is being wholeheartedly acclaimed by thousands of Pacific Coast motorist as the greatest value ever to bear the popular General Motors nameplate.

Have Two Lines.

Two complete lines of cars, the new Master De Luxe and the new Standard comprise the Chevrolet bid for America's preference in 1936. Both models are alike in major mechanical features and style advancements each offering such values as perfected hydraulic brakes, higher compression engine of 79-horsepower, higher and narrower radiator grille of brilliant new design, new style side-mounted headlamps, and turret top body by Fisher. The chief difference between the two new Chevrolets is in the wheelbase. The Standard is now lengthened to 109 inches with a gain of 13 inches in overall length, and an increase of 135 pounds in weight.

Features Are New.

The Master De Luxe Chevrolet for 1936 is offered with either the time-proved knee- action or with conventional springing. Outstanding among the many new features of both Master De Luxe and Standard models are improved engines having higher compression ratio (6 to 1); balanced carburetor; full length water jacketing and other improvements resulting in greater gasoline and oil economy; the Cromodine rust prevention of fenders and running boards. Front doors of all models of both lines are hinged at the front. Spoke-type pressed steel wheels are used on Standard models.

More Front Room.

An important innovation bringing a more comfortable ride is found in the design of the front seating arrangement of the Master De Luxe coach and town sedan. Instead of the usual divided and hinged front seat, a single seat cushion extends the full width of the car and accomodates three passengers with ease. The seat back is divided and the right section is hinged so that it folds forward and creates a passageway to the rear seating compartment.

Perfect Riding Comfort.

Chevrolet's all-enclosed knee-action units, now entering their third year, remain unchanged from their original design, except for an improvement in the method of attaching the wheel spindle to the support arm. The riding comfort and driving ease ushered into motoring by knee-action suspension two years ago, have been carried to new heights in the 1936 line. Generalizing an opinion upon the appearance of the 1936 Chevrolets, "smoothness" is the keynote of their changed aspect. Rounded contours, characteristic of the turret top fundamental of construction, prevail throughout the cars. In fact, the only flat surfaces are the plate glass windshields and windows.

Mrs. Charles Chadd departed Friday for Eureka, her former home, to visit friends.

Prof. and Mrs. P. B. Westerman were down from Potter Valley Monday afternoon.
